From Your Editors
We take this opportunity to welcome Mary El Milosh (right), a past executive member, who has agreed to join our Editorial Committee for at least the next three issues. Thank-you, Linda Grieve, for volunteering as an editor for the past two issues but who must now leave for prior commitments.

Thanks John Lane! John, pictured to the left, has been our Bridge Convenor since 1995. He is leaving his position after hosting this activity and over-seeing our move from St. Margaret’s to Holy Rosary. He is continuing his love of the game in other areas of his active life. Thanks again.

Our cover photo shows three members who regularly participate in our Luncheons and Annual General Meetings. Speaking of AGMs, see Page 28 if you would like to serve on our Executive.

Opinions expressed in this Newsletter do not necessarily reflect the position of RTO/ERO or RTO/ERO Toronto District 16.
Third-party content is presented for information only and does not necessarily reflect endorsement by your editors or RTO/ERO Toronto. While every effort is made to ensure the accuracy of the information contained in this Newsletter, important decisions should be made only after consulting with the appropriate professional or organization.
By the time you read this, you may have returned from down south; are about to go south or to Europe (hopefully, you will be able to get there and back in reasonable time), or have decided to endure the wonderful winter weather wherever you are. Whatever the case, I hope that the new year has brought you a fresh perspective on the year ahead of us.

Since I last wrote to you, we have had four very successful large events. The first was the New Member Breakfast followed by our Fall Craft Show and Luncheon. Thanks go to Carmelita Salazar and Kay Jeffrey who helped organize these activities. Thanks also go to Valerie Mah for organizing the very popular Wellness Series on Food and Health. Lone Smith organized a workshop on Taxation. These, and many other activities, are available to you. Members of the District Executive, along with member volunteers, work very hard to organize these activities. Please take full advantage of these opportunities, not only to meet former colleagues, but to learn something new as well.

We are about to enjoy our “burgeoning” financial well-being. With an increase of 1.4% in our pensions, and an increase of 1.7% in CPP payments, we have never been as well off in our retirement as we are now. I know that it is hard to believe, but that is an actuarial fact. Your own reality may be somewhat different. Unfortunately, any significant improvements to the CPP appear to have been put on hold for the foreseeable future by the Federal and Provincial Ministers of Finance.

We have received three submissions for consideration for RTO/ERO’s Project-Service to Others Grants of up to $4000. A sub-committee of the Executive, led by E. Roy Harvey, will review the applications, present one of them to the District Executive for consideration, and then send our selection on to the Provincial Office for their deliberations. We should know if our submission is among the chosen by sometime in May.

I recently received a telephone call from a retired teacher in New Brunswick who is hoping to contact RTO/ERO members who might be interested in doing some teaching in China. At the moment, I do not have any further information. He will contact me again when he is in Ontario sometime in the next month or two.

A provincial election is scheduled for this October. This is an opportunity for you to participate directly in the electoral process, whether it is in a specific campaign, or simply to vote. Regrettably, there are many reasons to be cynical, pessimistic and disappointed with politics. However, I personally have difficulty with people who do not vote, and then go on to complain about what is wrong with government. I would like them to keep two statements in mind. The first is: “The democratic process is not perfect, but it is a lot better than the alternative” (attributed to Winston Churchill). The second is: “In a democracy we get the government we deserve.” (source unknown). If you don’t like what the various levels of government are doing, or not doing, instead of giving up, do something about it! You are part of a very small percentage of the world’s population that has a real opportunity to promote your particular political philosophy. Whether you are right wing, left wing, or somewhere in between, you owe it to yourself to get involved.

Although it is several months into the future, I would like you to start thinking about our Annual General Meeting that will take place on Wednesday, May 4, at the Old Mill. Among a number of issues that will be considered at this meeting, a very important item will be the election of a new District Executive for 2011-2012. The District Executive is that group which makes decisions on the spending of a budget of over $60,000, all of which is your money. The AGM is another opportunity for you to become involved in the electoral process. Not only do you have a chance to vote for the new Executive, but you also have the opportunity to become a member of the Executive. There are 20 positions on our District Executive. One of them might be the right fit for you. Please consider this over the next few months.

Some Internet thoughts on aging:
• “Happiness in old age may have more to do with attitude than actual health, a new study suggests.
• “A new study also showed that people who spent time each day socializing, reading or participating in other hobbies rated their aging satisfaction higher.”
• “Aging has its own disadvantages and unpleasant consequences, but there are a lot of privileges being given to a senior citizen. The benefits that you can derive from growing old are truly valuable and can help you deal better with aging.”
• “Many seniors simply lose the will to live once they lose their partner in life. The moral of this story is to keep each other healthy by visiting the doctor regularly, eating correctly, getting exercise and taking the correct doses of prescribed medicine.”
• “A group that actively works for the good and benefit of their neighbors is a first-rate way to socialize with your peers. It is best to socialize with any group of human beings with common qualities similar to yours.”

I believe that active participation in an organization such as RTO can help you to navigate the aging process more auspiciously. District 16 offers you many activities, from Bridge to Walking, and lots in between, so there is much for you to do. Take a good look at the various social activities that are available. We invite you to take advantage of us. We are here for you now, and here for your future.

From all of us on the District 16 Executive, may 2011 be a happy and prosperous year for you and yours.
Let me extend my best wishes and New Year’s greetings to everyone! I know it was a busy time for all of us. I guess we all have to go on a diet now with all those extra calories!

The New Year brings many opportunities for those who have not yet participated in our social activities. Note our several options below and feel free to come to one or more of our activities. Perhaps you have some talent you can offer your colleagues as an activity leader. We can help you get started.

Blaming Seniors for Emergency Room Blockage

Your editors have a particular bias against the apparent continual blaming of rising healthcare problems on the elderly. In our last two issues we addressed this matter (funding). Here we go again!

With the release of the Ontario Auditor-General’s report, a Toronto newspaper created the following headline: Needs of aging Canadians creating ER bottlenecks.

The accompanying article suggests that the Auditor-General’s report addresses concerns regarding Emergency Room waiting times: ‘At the root of the problem, according to experts and those familiar with parts of the auditor’s report, is an acute shortage of community-based care for aging Canadians.’

‘If hospitals could move patients out of acute-care beds and into more appropriate settings faster, the auditor concludes, that would go a long way toward reducing overcrowding in emergency departments.’

The article goes on to say that ‘one in six hospital beds is occupied by patients awaiting nursing-home placement.’

This 16% may be a problem for the individual who does not have access to a nursing-home or home-care but, as a ratio of elderly to the general population, there is no blame to be laid on seniors alone for the increase in Emergency Room wait times.

We do recognize that there is a developing issue related to the housing and care for older persons - especially those who are single and who may have no family to assist or look after their interests should they be in a retirement home.

We also see increasing media reports that the general population wishes to have their taxes reduced so that services can be cut.

On these matters, there may be meat for the next Provincial Election as Ontarians decide what services they want and how they wish to pay for them. Editors [16]

Report on Our Fall Health/Wellness Series

Maureen Smith, a District 16 member, gave three sessions to over 35 participants on weight loss, inflammation and allergies and foods to assist or defer. Since retiring in 2003, Maureen has earned her papers as a Bioenergetic Kinesiologist and shared her knowledge and enthusiasm.

Our fourth session was led by Dr. Fred Hui, who practices an idealized blend of Integrative Medicine. His encyclopedic knowledge in allopathic medicine, naturopathic, osteopathic and oriental medicine has given him a very respectable reputation both nationally and internationally.

Thanks to the organizing committee: Bill Tajer, Kay Jeffery, Carmelita Salazar, Ann Ludwigsen and Valerie Mah with additional help from Helen Milton, Shashi Makhija, Dick and Marilyn Holyer. Our March Newsletter will provide details learned. See Page 8 for photos. V. Mah [16]

Additional RTO/ERO Information

RTO/ERO Membership Notes:

Dianne Vezeau, Membership Database Administrator, notes some confusion from members regarding membership eligibility. We offer some clarification:

Committed Value

A retired teacher who opts for the commuted value of his/her contributions to the OTPP is different than a teacher who has taught for a few years and then had their pension contributions refunded. Committed value means the lump sum of the pension has been transferred directly to a Locked-In Retirement Account (LIRA), life annuity or another pension. If this has not occurred and the pension has been refunded, then the former teacher is not eligible for membership in RTO/ERO.

Surviving Spouse

The surviving spouse, of a full or associate Member, who is not eligible to receive a teacher’s pension can join RTO/ERO as an associate Member. However, this is not the same as a surviving spouse of a teacher who was still teaching at time of death or the surviving spouse of a non-member, neither of which is eligible for membership in RTO/ERO.

Renaissance Proposals Wanted

If you would like to contribute to this RTO/ERO magazine, send a brief outline with your proposal indicating the experiences, opinions, artwork or photography to renaissance@rto-ero.org / 416-962•9463 or 1•800•361•9888 ext. 224. Note the themes of these upcoming issues.

Additional Avenues for Drug Coverage

The Ontario Drug Benefit (ODB) Program provides drug coverage for Ontario residents age 65 and over. The ODB Formulary lists over 3,200 drug products as a general benefit or limited use basis. The list is extensive, although there are many more drugs that are not covered by ODB. Drugs newly approved for sale in Canada must also be approved by the province for inclusion in the Formulary.

A resident of Ontario – 65 and over, or under 65 in special circumstances – have other sources to help recoup some of their drug expenses.

Trillium Drug Program

The Trillium Drug Program (Trillium), run by Ontario, is designed for residents under age 65 who have high prescription drug costs (approximately 4% of their net household income). The program covers the same drugs listed in the ODB Formulary. To register for Trillium, the following conditions must be met:

- You must be an Ontario resident with a valid Ontario Health Card; and
- You are not eligible for drug coverage under the basic ODB Program; and
- Your private health insurance does not cover 100% of prescription drugs or you have no private coverage.

Trillium has an annual deductible that is based on your net household income. The deductible is paid in four installments in the benefit year (August 1 to July 31). For example, a single person with an annual net household income of $35,000 would have an annual Trillium deductible of $1,184 (or $296 for each installment). To satisfy your deductible and be eligible for coverage, your drug costs must meet the following criteria:

- The drug is listed in the ODB Formulary; or
- The drug is on the Facilitated Access List of HIV/AIDS drugs; or
- Your prescription has been approved for coverage through the Exceptional Access Program.

For more information or to obtain an application kit for Trillium, speak to your pharmacist or call the Ministry of Health and Long-Term Care at 1-800-575-5386 (toll-free) or 416-642-3038 if in Toronto, or access the government website at www.health.gov.on.ca.

Exceptional Access Program

The Exceptional Access Program (EAP) is generally for Ontario residents covered under ODB or Trillium who have an uncommon medical condition that requires prescription medications not listed in the ODB Formulary. Your physician must submit a request for coverage to the Ministry of Health and Long-Term Care at 1-866-532-3161 (toll-free in Ontario only) or TTY 1-800-387-5559, or by accessing the government website at www.health.gov.on.ca.

New Drug Funding Program

New Drug Funding Program (NDFP) was established to provide a central source of funding for new, and often expensive, hospital administered intravenous (IV) drugs. The program is administered by Cancer Care Ontario. The NDFP covers 75% of the total cost of hospital-administered IV drugs in Ontario. The hospitals cover the remaining 25% that existed prior to the NDFP. To be covered by this program your physician must submit a treatment eligibility form along with supporting documentation to Cancer Care Ontario prior to the beginning of your treatment. The NDFP does not reimburse you; rather, payment goes directly to the regional cancer centre, or hospital where your treatment was provided. Treatments given in private clinics are not covered.

For more information on this program, talk to your physician. You can also call Cancer Care Ontario at 416-971-9800, or visit their website at www.cancercare.on.ca.

Pharmaceutical Companies

Many new drug treatments are very expensive. Many drug manufacturers offer their own assistance program, often in exchange for your participation in longer term studies. There are too many manufacturers, programs, and criteria to address in this article. You or your physician should contact the manufacturer directly.

Other Sources

The information presented in this article is specific to Ontario residents, however, every provincial/territorial government has resources that you can access. Start with government websites or your provincial government’s health information line. Your pharmacist or physician is also an excellent resource. It may be helpful to seek out organizations that may be dedicated to your specific medical condition.

Review federal government initiatives too, including those for veterans, First Nations, and special access to medications not available in Canada. This list provides only highlights of some of the avenues to help cover your prescription drug expenses, aside from the RTO/ERO Extended Health Plan. There are many other assistance programs.

Generic Drugs vs. Brand Name Drugs

Generic or multiple-source drug is the term used for products that contain the same medicinal ingredients as the original brand name drug, and are generally cheaper in price. They are the low cost equivalent of brand name drugs that are either produced by drug manufacturers once the patents expire on the brand name versions, or manufactured and repackaged by the same company that developed the brand name version.

According to the Canadian Generic Pharmaceutical Association, more than 40% of prescriptions being filled at pharmacies these days are filled by generic drugs. More than likely, you have received a generic drug at some time, whether or not you realized it at the time.

Although generic drugs are used widely in hospitals, and provincial drug programs, there is still the concept that generic drugs are of lower quality and less safe than brand name drugs.

It is important to know that all drugs sold in Canada must be approved by Health Canada. The active ingredient in a generic drug and brand name drug are identical and must meet the same scientific norms and standards set by Health Canada. There are no differences as far as quality, purity, and safety between the generic drugs and higher-priced brand name drugs.

The ingredients are the most important element in drug testing. The ingredient in the drug that helps cure you, or “make you feel better” is called the medicinal or active ingredient. When these ingredients are being manufactured, small amounts of impure materials will also be produced. Manufacturers must set limits for any impurities that may remain and show that these impurities will not affect the safety and effectiveness of the medicinal ingredient.

What can differ between brand and generic drugs are the non-medicinal ingredients that give the drug its shape and colour. When a manufacturer changes the non-medicinal ingredients, or the manufacturing conditions, they have to provide studies to prove that the effectiveness of the drug has not changed.

By choosing a generic drug over a brand name drug, you are saving yourself money as well as helping to lower the costs of the RTO/ERO Extended Health Care Plan.

Some common examples of brand name drugs, and their generic equivalent are (Brand Name/Generic):

- Actonel/Risedronate,
- Altace/Ramipril,
- Lipitor/Atorvastatin, and
- Pantoloc/Pantoprazole.

Travel Insurance Beyond 62 Days

When an RTO/ERO member participates in our Extended Health Plan, they are automatically covered for travel Outside of Province/ Country for a period of 62 days.

There is also an option to purchase additional insurance for extended travel beyond these 62 days.

An RTO/ERO member from Scarborough District 24, in planning an extended trip to South Africa, decided to research competitive rates. He did find three plans that, for him and his wife, gave health coverage at a better rate than that of RTO/ERO.

The RTO/ERO Health Services Committee was asked to comment on the apparent discrepancy. We provide their response as supplied by Johnson Inc., RTO/ERO’s Plan Administrator:

RTO/ERO’s Supplemental Travel Plan is very different. Coverage with RTO/ERO can be obtained without completing a medical questionnaire; rates are the same for any age or health condition; the medical stability clause is very liberal (it allows for a medication change); and, the coverage offered is identical to that under RTO/ERO’s Extended Health Care Plan. RTO/ERO is unique in the market of travel insurance products.

While RTO/ERO’s rates... are more expensive than the three insurance products quoted, it can often be cheaper than the market.

[The member and his partner] have made the insurance decision that is most appropriate for their travel needs - a decision RTO/ERO would advocate. As with any product, comparison shopping can be beneficial.

Beware the Dog Bite ~ A Cautionary Tale

In May, while walking home, I was bitten by an unleashed Shia Tzu which was running at large from a nearby home. I visited the dog owner’s residence. He gave me his name and indicated that the dog had had all its shots. I was surprised to see the dog tethered outside despite it’s having bitten me on the calf just a short while earlier. The owner of the dog mentioned possibly putting a muzzle on his pet. He did not offer to drive me to hospital.

Luckily, a friend drove me to a nearby Hospital Emergency where I had a four-hour wait. Finally, after having been seen by the Emergency Doctor, I was sent home with a bandage only over the bite puncture wounds. No follow up care was mentioned outside Toronto Animal and Health services being notified. Fortunately the dog had no rabies; however, unknown to me, I developed Cellulitis (bacterial skin infection entering the body through a sore). Animal Services came to take a statement and issued a temporary muzzle order to the owner. I ended up having to undergo a large dose of antibiotics to tackle the infection from the dog and Cellulitis.

Recently Toronto Animal Services conducted a Muzzle Tribunal with the dog owner. Emphasis was put on rehabilitation of the dog although it had bitten indoors previously and the owners had been issued a “Notice of Caution”. Like an erring student, obedience training was recommended but both the dog and its owners ducked responsibility.

Dogs are not children and can return to their native habits at any time. When they bite the public on public property, they should be muzzled when out in public. The public interest should be prime. If you do get bitten by a domestic or other dog, it might be wise to have a course of antibiotics immediately to prevent the development of Cellulitis. A good walking stick may also be handy so that stray dogs will leave you in peace.

Goodwill - Marjorie Blake

Welcome letters were sent to 18 new members in November. One Get Well card was sent to a member recuperating at home. Birthday and Christmas cards were sent to seven members in Nursing homes.

In October, 2010 contact was made with seven centenarians. Their ages range from 100 to 102.

Congratulations to the following:

- Gladys Annis ~ 101
- M. Alison Brigden ~ 101
- Doris McCarthy ~ 100
- Henry (Harry) McQueen ~ 102
- Marjorie Robertson ~ 101
- Josephine Rogers ~ 101
- Regina F. M. Tait ~ 100

It was possible to visit Marjorie Robertson and Harry McQueen in their retirement residence.

With appropriate permissions, a poinsettia plant, a Happy Birthday box of shortbread, birthday and Christmas Cards, and RTO/ERO mug were sent.

Telephone calls and thank-you cards were received from relatives and care-givers. In conversation with three of the recipients, they were overwhelmed to know that they were remembered by RTO/ERO on their special day and during the Christmas season.

Visiting Centenarians - Marjorie Robertson and Harry McQueen

In December Sandra Robertson (no relation) and I visited Marjorie Robertson (centre, bottom Page 21) and Shash Makhija and I visited Henry (Harry) McQueen (below) at their retirement homes. Marjorie welcomed us in her wheelchair assisted by her personal care worker. She was thrilled that RTO/ERO remembered her birthday and was eager to have us unwrap her gifts and read her cards because of her failing eyesight. Her conversation focused on her late husband, Sinclair, and her four children. We stayed with Marjorie for an hour when she went to join other residents in their recreation room before supper time.

We visited Harry McQueen to celebrate his 102nd birthday - such exuberance, liveliness and spontaneity! He was full of smiles and appreciation that he would be remembered by RTO/ERO on his special day. Our conversation lasted over an hour and a half and focused on his Scottish roots, early years in Canada, schooling and his teaching career. He keeps abreast with the times through interviews, the Globe and Mail, this Newsletter and other material. He wonders, however, how he would cope in a classroom in this era given all the new technology. We left his residence feeling rejuvenated and warmer.
Archives Wanted

Are you or a relative moving to smaller quarters? Now there are some options for you.

RTO/ERO Archives
If you have any memorabilia pertaining to The Superannuated Teachers of Ontario or RTO/ERO - especially Toronto District, please contact me.

TDSB Archives
If you have pictures, trophies, medals, yearbooks, etc. from school days either as a student or teacher, consider donating them to the Sesquicentennial Museum and Archives (still at 263 McCaul Street.

Sports memorabilia from the old Public School Athletic Association and Public School Girls’ Association are now with the Sesquicentennial Museum and Archives.

Call Greg McKinnon at 416•397•3680 to arrange to drop off donations.

TEOF Donations
If you have new or used items that you are considering for disposal but feel they may be too good for some drop boxes, then please remember TEOF. When picking up a donation from the Gang family, I noticed wonderful paintings of lake boats produced by Israel (Izzy) Gang, a former member of the RTO/ERO Toronto Executive. Donated to the TEOF auction, they were connected to a collector who loved lake boats. The family received a donation receipt and the money raised went to TEOF.

Each year TEOF gives upwards of $100,000 to the TDSB for nutrition to 40 kindergartens located in the old TBE and provides a hot lunch program for 16 Parenting Centres in the TDSB. For further information and pickups, contact Ross Richarson at 416•393•8363.

Some minds are like concrete - thoroughly mixed up and permanently set.
Many pensioners wonder why their annual pension increase seldom matches the inflation rates reported in the media. Some go so far as to think they are being hard-done-by because of the apparent mis-match. The media compares the Consumer Price Index (CPI) for the current month to the same month a year earlier. Also, local media may quote the CPI for their local municipality or province; or, for the month-to-month increase. Additionally, the OTPP announces its increase as the year-end approaches when the media may be reporting other measures of cost increases. The bottom line is that OTPP participants receive that for which they have paid.

What the OTPP does
The OTPP compares the average monthly Canadian CPI for the 12-month period ending in September to the 12-month average a year earlier to smooth the increase from year to year by reducing the effect of unforeseen incidents (catastrophes, government actions like reductions in hydro costs).

All fully indexed pension plans generate roughly the same inflation protection over time. These annual increases vary from plan to plan depending on the method and time periods used to calculate the adjustment. All plans must use the calculation method and time periods prescribed under the terms of the pension plan.

Here’s how the OTPP annual pension increase is calculated for 2011:

1 Determine the inflation factor
115.8 (average monthly CPI for 12 months ending in September 2010) ÷ 114.2 (average monthly CPI for 12 months ending in September 2009) = 1.014 inflation factor

2 Convert the factor to a percentage:
(1.014 - 1) × 100 = 1.4%

This method is also used by other major pension plans, including the Ontario Public Service Pension Plan and Ontario Public Service Employees’ Union Pension Plan.

However, different methods and time periods may apply for other plans, such as OMERS and CPP. For this reason, the annual inflation adjustment can vary among pension plans. Despite these minor differences, over time there is little discernable difference to the end-user of the differing plans.

Conditional Inflation Protection
Inflation protection for pension credit earned after 2009 is conditional on the financial health of the plan. Inflation increases for the credit you’ve earned after 2009 will range from 50% to 100% of the change in the CPI. Since conditional inflation protection has not been invoked, 2010 credit receives 100% protection for this adjustment.

Participants receive the pension for which they have paid.

Changes to the Canada Pension Plan (CPP) starting January, 2011:
- Your monthly CPP retirement pension amount will increase by a larger percentage if you take it after age 65 (January 2011-January 2013).
- Your monthly CPP retirement pension amount will decrease by a larger percentage if you take it before age 65 (January, 2012-January, 2016).
- The number of years of low or zero earnings that are automatically dropped from the calculation of the CPP retirement pension will increase (January, 2012 and January, 2014).
- You will be able to begin receiving your CPP retirement pension without any work interruption (January, 2012).

If you are under 65 and you work while receiving your CPP retirement pension, you and your employer will have to make CPP contributions. (or if you work outside of Quebec while receiving a QPP retirement pension) (January, 2012). These contributions will increase your CPP retirement benefits (January, 2013).
- If you are age 65 to 70 and you work while receiving your CPP retirement pension, you can choose to make CPP contributions (or if you work outside of Quebec while receiving a QPP retirement pension) (January, 2012). These contributions will increase your CPP benefits (January, 2013).

Top 25 Movies for 2010

John Borovilos

Another great year at the movies - so good that two films tied for my top spot.

“The King’s Speech” was by far the most entertaining film of the year, topped by superb performances by Colin Firth as the stuttering Prince Albert/George VI forced to take the throne after the sudden abdication of Edward VIII and Geoffrey Rush as his self-made and “cheeky” vocal therapist. The two together were a miracle of acting, timing, pacing - a miracle too of the power of strong and inspired teaching on the most bullheaded of students. As George VI eventually gains his voice to inspire his nation while the war drums of World War II beat on and the power of radio takes over, we are swept along with the both the laughter and the tears. We understand, too, the power of real relationships, friendships, and the power of real and profound communication.

“The Social Network”, on the other hand, showed the power of empty cyberspace and the new social medium of the computer - and showed us how far we’ve come since the days of radio, George VI and real relationships. It also showed us how far someone will go to betray friends and associates to gain power, money, and total manipulation of a system that seems to create “friends” through Facebook, but actually creates false relationships and delusions of friendships. This film revealed how far we have come in destroying personal, real-life communications where studies now show that most people would rather text-message than actually have a real conversation on the phone and, God help us, a real face-to-face discussion. Too much trouble and too intrusive! Jesse Eisenberg, playing Mark Zuckerberg as the inventor of Facebook, was outstanding as a robot-like weasel that has now wreaked havoc on real relationships and real conversations. A great film that mirrors our times and our nightmares. Welcome to Big Brother.

Other films on my list (which should be noted is slanted towards adult themes and for adults who like to be provoked or challenged) include movies that speak to the loss of innocence (Toy Story 3; True Grit; Mr. Nobody); movies that speak to individuals overcoming great odds to reveal the triumph of the human spirit even amidst the worst of circumstances (The Fighter; Mao’s Last Dancer; Winter’s Bone; 127 Hours; Agora); and films that speak to the power of love even amidst loss and grieving (Rabbit Hole; Nowhere Boy - about the young John Lennon; Mother; I Am Love; Splice; Hereafter; The Kids Are All Right).

Finally, a few special mentions:

“Black Swan”, featuring the best actress of the year, Natalie Portman, turns the ballet world upside-down in this terrifying movie of blind ambition, the stress of reaching “perfection”; and the tension of sexual repression. “The Ghost Writer” is simply the best, most atmospheric, most suspenseful film of the year - a real thriller that relies for its effects on characters trapped in situations not of their own making. This is Roman Polanski rethinking Hitchcock. “Creation” is for anyone who wants to know how Charles Darwin overcame both the loss of his daughter and society’s narrow-minded restrictions to produce his theory of evolution - beautifully structured and acted. “Inception”, although overwrought, forced us to think about our dreams and about our realities. What’s real? What’s not? Also recommended for a cold winter’s night: Animal Kingdom; Ajami; The Prophet; Shutter Island; The Town; Chloe (Toronto as you’ve never seen it); Casino Jack; Exit Through the Gift Shop (a mockdoc about the nature of art, pretension, and fraud); Never Let Me Go; and Howl (about the trials and tribulations of the “beat” poet, Alan Ginsberg).

Here is the reality of my Top 25 Movies for you to enjoy and discuss:

1. TIE - The King’s Speech; The Social Network
2. Black Swan
3. The Ghost Writer
4. Rabbit Hole
5. The Fighter

8. Mother

Travelogue ~ Wednesday, February 23 at 1:30pm
‘April in Paris’ ~ presented by David Kister and Prue Teagle

David Kister and Prue Teagle are good friends of the Holyers and seasoned travelers who had been to Paris before a number of times, but this visit in April of 2010 was their first together, and, besides that, it was a celebration of Prue’s retirement, which has allowed her to perform valuable volunteer service, develop a fantastic garden, and start to travel again, as well. David is a frequent facilitator of workshops at the Academy for Lifelong Learning at UofT after a career with IBM.

David writes… ‘A friend of mine had recently opened a small, refurbished hotel in the Marais neighbourhood. Our excellent host made us feel at home. Situated just steps from the Bastille we were equipped with an excellent base for our excursions. Usually eschewing the Metro stop at hand, we walked and walked. We walked everywhere. It sometimes comes as a surprise to new visitors to Paris to learn how compact the old city is.

What might the casual tourist in Paris miss? How about cemeteries? Believe it or not, delightful sculpture is on view in the very few cemeteries located within the city. Speaking of cemeteries, how about a visit to the catacombs? And what would Paris be without its galleries and museums?

Everyone has heard of the Louvre and the Musée d’Orsay, but what about the Jacquemart-Andre, Rodin and Marmotten-Monet? At the latter, for example, we had the unexpected thrill of seeing ‘Impression, Sunrise’, the painting which gave the entire impressionist school of art its name. And in an out-of-the-way house to boot.

April was itself a treat. Slight coolness and bare trees greeted us when we arrived, but so quickly transformed into warmth and a plethora of spring flowers. We visited outdoor markets almost daily, often selecting cheeses, meats, breads and fruit for lunch alfresco, or more properly, en plein air in any of the numerous parks dotted about the city.

Paris is a wonderful tourist destination. It becomes a city apart from all others when you immerse yourself, even if just a little. You’ll find Paris gets in your blood, a feeling we have that we hope our photos might impart to you.

When Pat Zuest retired as a uniquely qualified librarian, she devoted herself full time to her passion for photography, being an active member of the Toronto Camera Club (15 years), traveling and winning many awards herself, as well as judging competitions. Her destinations have included Europe (Italy and especially Switzerland), Ecuador, the Galapagos, Japan, Cuba plus North American locations from Newfoundland to B.C. to California.

She has even accompanied mountain climbers targeting the Matterhorn and brought back the amazing photographic evidence, although she modestly claims not to be a climber herself.

Fortunately, for us, she enjoys making presentations to clubs, travel and photography organizations and retirement homes. One of our District 16 long-time members, Harold McTavish, saw Pat’s work at the North York Library last spring and was so impressed that he suggested we contact her, which we hastened to do. The difficulty with Pat lies in choosing a single program from her array of unique audio-visual shows.

The more we saw of samples of her work, the more we realized that we had to select just one production (and they are productions). The solution: from an earlier era of movie going, Pat remembers that audiences enjoyed a couple of short features before the main one. Accordingly, she plans to treat us first to a glimpse of the underwater world off the B.C. coast where she developed her skills with years of scuba diving photography. (Note the picture of the exotic fish, not previously thought to have been in B.C. waters, she says.) Then she will introduce us to her “motion photography”, capturing images while on the road and thus creating an impressionistic effect that is almost magical and very compelling.

And the main feature? Since Switzerland is the homeland of her father, Pat spent several weeks each summer from 2006 to 2010 exploring with her camera what she calls “a well-tended garden - a beautiful green jewel located in the middle of Europe”. You won’t want to miss this experience with one of the most sensitive artists it has been our good fortune to encounter.

Oh, yes, all of the music with this show is Swiss, reflecting the country’s diverse language and cultural influences.

We would not be surprised if Pat can yodel while she expertly wields the camera. Come and see for yourself. She might even be able to do this underwater; the woman is full of surprises. Our thanks to Harold for his sharp eyes and ears for talent.
We try to provide activities according to our members’ wishes. If you would like to lead a group of like-minded individuals, contact an Executive Member and we’ll help you get started. Possibilities include: bowling, billiards, curling, ethnic dining, photography, dancercise, photography, swimming, etc.

STEP 1 ~ Know the Risks

Although the consequences of various disasters can be similar, knowing the risks in your region can help you better prepare. Across Canada, we face a number of hazards, such as earthquakes in British Columbia, blizzards in Nunavut and tornadoes in Ontario. In addition to natural disasters, there are other types of risks, such as power outages and industrial or transportation accidents. Refer to the province/territory information section at the end of this guide to learn more about the specific risks and to find contact information. Some of the risks below may be relevant to your community. Find out which ones by visiting www.GetPrepared.gc.ca/risks/risks_e.asp.

You may want to identify the most likely ones for easy reference.

- Blizzards*
- Landslides or Avalanches
- Power Outages*
- Winter Storms*
- Extreme Cold or Heat Waves*
- Droughts
- Tornadoes*
- Floods

* ~ these events have occurred in the Toronto area (mild earthquakes and man-made disasters are also a potential risk).

STEP 2 ~ Make a Plan

Every Canadian household needs an emergency plan. It will help you and your family know what to do in case of an emergency. It will take you only 20 minutes to make your plan.

Your family may not be together when an emergency occurs. Plan how to meet or how to contact one another, and discuss what you would do in different situations.

Use the following pages to create your plan. Most of this information can be filled out on your own. You may need to get some information from your municipality and province/territory about their emergency plans.

Keep this document in an easy-to-find, easy-to-remember place (for example, with your emergency kit). Photocopy this plan and keep it in your car and/or at work.

Household Plan

Emergency Exits

Draw up a floor plan of your home that shows all possible exits from each room. Plan a main exit route and an alternate exit route from each room.

Safe Idea

Learn about first aid. You could save a life. Along with making emergency plans and preparing an emergency kit, knowing first aid could save a life. Contact your local Canadian Red Cross or St. John Ambulance office to find out about first aid courses in your area.

If you live in an apartment, plan to use the stairs instead of the elevators. If you are unable to use the stairs, notify emergency personnel ahead of time. Also, identify an evacuation route from your neighbourhood in case you need to leave in a hurry (and think of more than one option).

Meeting Places

Identify safe places where everyone should meet if you cannot go home or you need to evacuate.

Safe meeting place outside immediate neighbourhood: __________________

Evacuation routes from neighbourhood: __________________

Workplace

Learn about the emergency evacuation plans in place and what you will need to do. You may want to have some basic supplies at work, such as water and food that won’t spoil, in case you need to stay put for a while. You may want to raise this question with your employer and colleagues as well.

Children

Ask your children’s school or daycare about their emergency policies. Find out how they will contact families during an emergency. Find out what type of authorization the school or daycare requires to release your children to a designated person if you can’t pick them up. Make sure the school or daycare has updated contact information for parents, caregivers and designated persons.

Plan for Pets

In case of an evacuation, remember that pets are not allowed in some public shelters or hotels because of certain health regulations. In case of an evacuation, prepare to take your pets with you to the home of a relative or friend, or take steps to identify pet-friendly hotels or pet boarding facilities in your area and further away from home.

Special Health Needs
Establish a personal support network of friends, relatives, health-care providers, co-workers and neighbours who understand your special needs.

Write down details about:
- Accommodation needs
- Allergies
- Emergency contacts
- Family medical history
- Health screenings
- Insurance information
- Medical conditions
- Medication
- Recent vaccinations
- Surgeries

Keep a copy of this information in your emergency kit, and give a copy to your personal support network.

Talk to your doctor about preparing a grab-and-go bag, if possible, with a two-week supply of medication and medical supplies. Include prescriptions and medical documents. Remember that pharmacies may be closed for some time, even after an emergency is over.

Plan for Specific Risks
Public Safety Canada offers brochures on specific risks, such as earthquakes, power outages and floods. Order or download your free copies from www.GetPrepared.ca or 1•800•O-Canada.

Neighbourhood Safety Plan
Work with your neighbours to identify people who may need extra help during an emergency. To help make sure everyone is taken care of, assign “block buddies.”

Emergency Contact Information
Photocopy this list. Put a copy close to your telephone. You can also order a household emergency contact sheet from www.GetPrepared.ca or 1•800•O-Canada. This product clings to any smooth surface and can be placed near the phone. If possible, program these phone numbers into your

Tip
Write yourself a reminder to update your emergency plan one year from now. On this date next year, review your contact information, practise your emergency evacuation plans, change the batteries in your smoke alarm and carbon monoxide detector, and restock your kit(s).

Tip
Plan for each family member to call or email the same out-of-town contact person in case of an emergency.

Choose an out-of-town contact who lives far enough away that he or she will probably not be affected by the same event.

If you are new to Canada, make arrangements through friends, cultural associations or community organizations.
Safe Home Instructions
Make sure you have a working carbon monoxide detector, smoke alarm, fire extinguisher and well-stocked first aid kit. If you live in an apartment, or if you are staying in a hotel, know where the fire alarms and emergency exits are located.

Everyone in your home should know where to find the fire extinguisher. All capable adults and older children should know how to use it. See instructions regarding the lifetime of your fire extinguisher and check with your local fire department for more information.

Older children and adults should know how to turn off your home’s water, electricity and gas. Make large, easy-to-see signs for water and gas shut-offs as well as for the breaker panel or fuse box.

Teach children how and when to dial 9-1-1 as well as how to call the designated out-of-town contact.

Tip
Limit phone calls to urgent messages only. Keep calls short to free up the lines for others.

Emergency Instructions
Call 9-1-1 (where available) to report a fire, a crime or to save a life.

For non-emergency calls, use the ten-digit numbers listed in your local phone book, or this emergency plan, for police, fire and other health services.

Tip
For the gas and water valves, keep shutoff instructions close by and read them carefully.

When notifying emergency services of your location, provide the exact street address and nearest intersection.

In an emergency
✦ Follow your emergency plan.
✦ Get your emergency kit.
✦ Make sure you are safe before assisting others.
✦ Listen to the radio or television for information from authorities. Local officials may advise you to stay where you are. Follow their instructions.
✦ Stay put until all is safe or until you are ordered to evacuate.

Evacuation orders
Authorities will not ask you to leave your home unless they have reason to believe that you may be in danger.

If you are ordered to evacuate, take your emergency kit, your wallet, personal identification for each family member and copies of essential family documents with you. Bring a cellular phone and spare battery or charger with you, if you have one. Use travel routes specified by local authorities.

If you have time, call or e-mail your out-of-town contact. Tell them where you are going and when you expect to arrive. Once you are safe, let them know. Tell them if any family members have become separated.

If possible, leave a note telling others where you left and where you are. Shut off water and electricity if officials tell you to do so.

Leave natural gas service on unless officials tell you to turn it off. If you turn off the gas, the gas company has to reconnect it. In a major emergency, it could take weeks for a professional to respond.

Take pets with you. Lock your home. Follow instructions from authorities.

If you go to an evacuation centre, register your personal information at the registration desk. Do not return home until authorities advise that it is safe.

STEP 3 ~ Get an Emergency Kit
In an emergency, you will need some basic supplies. You may need to get by without power or tap water. Be prepared to be self-sufficient for at least 72 hours.

You may have some of the items already, such as food, water and a battery-operated or wind-up flashlight. The key is to make sure they are organized and easy to find. Would you be able to find your flashlight in the dark?

Make sure your kit is easy to carry and everyone in the household knows where it is. Keep it in a backpack, duffle bag or suitcase with wheels, in an easy-to-reach, accessible place, such as your front-hall closet. If you have many people in your household, your emergency kit could get heavy. It’s a good idea to separate some of these supplies in backpacks. That way, your kit will be more portable and each person can personalize his or her own grab-and-go emergency kit.
Basic Emergency Kit

- Water – at least two litres of water per person per day; include small bottles that can be carried easily in case of an evacuation order
- Food that won’t spoil, such as canned food, energy bars and dried foods (replace food and water once a year)
- Manual can-opener
- Wind-up or battery-powered flashlight (and extra batteries)
- Wind-up or battery-powered radio (and extra batteries)
- First aid kit
- Extra keys to your car and house
- Some cash in smaller bills, such as $10 bills and change for payphones
- A copy of your emergency plan and contact information
- If applicable, other items such as prescription medication, infant formula, equipment for people with disabilities, or food, water and medication for your pets or service animal (personalize according to your needs)

Recommended additional items

- Two additional litres of water per person per day for cooking and cleaning
- Candles and matches or lighter (place candles in sturdy containers and do not burn unattended)
- Change of clothing and footwear for each household member
- Sleeping bag or warm blanket for each household member
- Toiletries
- Hand sanitizer
- Utensils
- Garbage bags
- Toilet paper
- Household chlorine bleach or water purifying tablets (see sidebar tip for details)
- Basic tools (hammer, pliers, wrench, screwdrivers, work gloves, dust mask, pocket knife)
- Small fuel operated stove and fuel (follow manufacturer’s directions and store properly)
- A whistle (in case you need to attract attention)
- Duct tape (to tape up windows, doors, air events, etc.)

Tip
Keep a corded phone in your home, as most cordless phones will not work during a power outage.

Nonperishable Food Recipe Ideas

Campfire Supper
- 28 oz. can of diced tomatoes
- 19 oz. can of kidney beans
- 19 oz. can of pork and beans
- Pepper to taste
- Chilli powder to taste
- a can of ham or chicken is also a nice addition to this recipe.

Serve with crusty bread or biscuits.

Beet Slaw
When you are tired of canned vegetables, soup and beans, something a little crunchy and different may hit the spot.
- 19 oz. can of sliced beets
- 19 oz. can of sauerkraut
- 1/2 cup beet juice (from can)
- 1/2 cup white vinegar
- 2 tablespoons of brown sugar

Drain 1/2 cup of the beet juice into a bowl. Cut beets into quarters and add to juice. Add the sauerkraut, but discard its juice. Mix in remaining ingredients. Let stand for an hour or more. After slaw has had a chance to sit, add more beet juice, brown sugar or vinegar to taste.

Peanut Butter Balls
- 3/4 cup honey 1/3 cup peanut butter (or other nut butter)
- 1/3 cup powdered milk 1/3 cup coconut (optional)
- Mix ingredients together. Shape into balls and enjoy! Nice and sweet but also nutritious. You can substitute some of the powdered milk with protein powder. This recipe can easily be doubled if you are feeding a crowd.
